Helping Libraries Harness the Power of eBooks

The World eBook Library would like to support your library to succeed in meeting the eBook demands of your patrons.

The World eBook Library can help your library to create a unified approach delivering eBooks for curriculum content while exciting the reader. The goal is to create equal access to both knowledge and opportunity for improved student achievement in order to share in the success of your students.

World eBook Library, a leading innovator in the development and distribution of digital resources, would like to help in this collaboration by offering your library a subscription to the world's largest PDF eBook and eDocument collection for only $1 per student per year. With over 400,000 eBooks in our collection, membership provides an easy way to build and enhance your current library collections.

Although, our primary focus is to support library's and institutions with online reading material we do provide individuals to independently subscribe to the World eBook Library. The general public may access our complete holdings for $8.95 per year.

With the World eBook Library, you never have to worry about a book being unavailable or "checked out." All of our materials and resources are available to all of your students 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Unlike other library subscription services, the World eBook Library allows your patrons to access the digital collection from off campus locations (WeL DOES NOT restrict IP access).

As the contact person of your library, would like to offer you a complementary trial user account. To obtain your trial user account email trial@worldlibrary.net and an email will be sent to you with a user name and password. As you explore our vast library materials, keep in mind that we are always expanding and offering new content and features. With our incredible size, scope, and depth of Internet based library materials available only through a World eBook Library membership, we are absolutely confident that you will not find a better value elsewhere.
